Stephen H. Watkins' TIGRcubs™ are Reinvigorating Corporate Finance

Leading the Entrex team, and the affiliated YourStreetFunds™ brand, Stephen H. Watkins put together nearly $8.5 billion in capital around the TIGRcub™ security structure and associated funds. Through these actions he's personally leading an evolution in the world of corporate and institutional finance that will alter the landscape of capital placement for investors (accredited and institutional), as well as private and public companies in the micro cap and mid market sectors ($5M-$250M), by expanding the ways returns are realized from previously overlooked entrepreneurial growth segments of the American economy.

First, he created Entrex, the broader marketplace of all TIGRcub™ security transactions and the Capital Market System for Private and Entrepreneurial Companies™. Second, he spearheaded creation of the YourStreetFunds™ brand. A family of funds that capitalize on the proven expertise of third-party Investment Managers to build industry sector and geographic-oriented portfolios that utilize the TIGRcub™ security as primary investment tool.

Currently, efforts are underway to expand the initial offering of public and private YourStreetFunds™ available to investors while simultaneously building the independent Private Company Index™ Inc. fund that co-invests alongside all TIGRcub™ issuances—literally building the Index of the Entrex Marketplace.

Watkins' Background

As an entrepreneur, leading numerous ventures from conception through exit, his efforts raising capital illuminated the inefficient and unstructured path companies were forced to follow for exposure and credibility to the capital community. This was the inspiration behind Entrex.

Designing Entrex to be a marketplace for private and public company financial instruments led Stephen to obtain numerous Provisional Patents from the USPTO and advance political endeavors through lobbying the SEC, urging the U.S. Treasury to establish a governmental regulatory framework to create a U.S. based Alternative Investment Market that includes private companies, and aligning with Michael G. Oxley (co-sponsor of the Sarbanes-Oxley act of 2002) to consider the re-shaped future of the equity capital market system and its impact on participants.

He frequently addresses investor groups about revenue-based investing and bringing efficiency to financing deals in mid-market and public micro cap companies.

Entrex

Entrex is the marketplace to find, research, track, manage and trade securities for entrepreneurial companies. Through the TIGRcub™ security structure, investors and issuers are brought together in a Capital Market System that serves both private and public companies.

To ensure continuous compliance and standardized financial reporting from issuers, TIGRcub™ assets are supported and serviced by Entrex, with The Bank of New York Mellon serving as trustee and custodian.

TIGRcubs™

TIGRcubs™ are the revenue-based securities that are the foundation of the Entrex marketplace. They provide many different solutions to both issuers and investors:

- › Monthly income
- › Liquidity
- › Investment returns not based on exit events
- › Fewer compliance and governance concerns than traditional equity instruments

As an asset class, TIGRcubs™ provide an institutionalized and standardized security structure that offers risk-adjusted returns for both public and private companies.

Private Company Index

The Private Company Index™ Fund is the "Composite Index of the Entrex Marketplace." The fund has the contractual ability to co-invest in every TIGRcub™ issuance, pari-passu to lead investor terms and conditions, providing its investors a large and diverse market focused cash-flowing fund.

YourStreetFunds™

YourStreetFunds™ offer investors new cash-flowing assets with risk-adjusted, monthly returns. These public or private funds create diversified baskets within specific geographic or industry sectors. Third-party fund managers bring their expertise to the investment process for targeted returns.

Not on Wall Street, not even on Main Street, but on YourStreet.™
